Art Unit: 3722

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: "26", "24", "36", "50" and "52". Correction is required.

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, In claim 1, line 1 and 6, the "all effective cutting" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Note the "all effective" cutting description in the specification and drawings is unclear. In addition, "26", "24", "36", "50" and "52" are not shown in the drawings. The definition of "all effective cutting" is not understandable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35

U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

As set forth above, the "all effective cutting" description in the specification and drawings is unclear. The "all effective cutting" is not well defined.

5. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 1 and 6, and claim 8, line 7, it is not clear what is meant by "all effective cutting" since it was not well defined.

Applicant is required to review the claims and correct all language which does not comply with 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 2, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tsujimura et al. (4,844,666).

Tsujimura et al. discloses the claimed invention comprising, as shown in Fig. 15, a tool body having an outer surface thereon and a central axis therein and including at least a first(including 24a) and second(including 24b) spiraling flute in the outer surface, each flute including a plurality of inserts(24a, 24b) secured therein to define an axial rake angle, wherein the axial rake angle of the inserts(24a, 24b) varies between flutes(e.g., changing from a1 to a4), and within each flute (changing from a1, a2, to a3 for the flute having inserts 24a) to provide all effective cutting.

Note Tsujimura et al. also discloses the limitations described in claims 2-14, such as all of the inserts(24a, 24b) on the entire tool body being identical; the inserts each having a cutting edge and the cutting edges on inserts with differing axial rake angles have differing cutting edge lengths.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3-6, and 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tsujimura et al. in view of Dutschke et al. (5,425,603).

Tsujimura et al. discloses the claimed invention except for: the tool body including three spiraling flutes; the actual lengths of adjacent inserts in any flute circumferentially overlap.

Dutschke et al. discloses a cutting insert comprising the tool body including three spiraling flutes(18); the actual lengths of adjacent inserts in any flute circumferentially overlap as shown in Figs. 3a, 3b.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Tsujimura et al.'s insert to comprise the tool body including three spiraling flutes; and the actual lengths of adjacent inserts in any flute circumferentially overlap, as taught by Dutschke et al., in order to simplify the structure, and to facilitate the cutting process, such as better guiding the chip flow in different machining conditions for the Tsujimura et al.'s tool.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments mailed 6/3/02 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicants argue that the rake angle of the inserts (of Tsujimura et al.'s tool) does not vary between flutes and within each flute to provide all effective cutting.

Art Unit: 3722

Examiner disagrees with Applicants. As set forth in the art rejections above, Tsujimura et al., as shown in Fig. 15, discloses the axial rake angle of the inserts(24a, 24b) varies between flutes(e.g., changing from a1 to a4), and within each flute (changing from a1, a2, to a3 for the flute having inserts 24a) to provide all effective cutting. Further, the definition of "all effective cutting" is unclear as set forth in the above rejections.

Conclusion

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
